

Stella Gavitt

Americana, folk and classic rock singer from Leiper's Fork, Tennessee

BIOGRAPHY

Stella Gavitt is an Americana, folk and classic rock singer based in Leiper's Fork, the storied artists' village just south of Nashville, Tennessee. Raised on the voices of Music City and the grit of classic rock radio, she brings a rangy, captivating voice that reaches notes most singers can't and holds a room from the very first line. Equally at home solo with an acoustic guitar or fronting a full band, Stella has played rooms across Middle Tennessee, from the speakeasy beneath The Country Boy in Leiper's Fork to venues around Franklin and Nashville.
